EXPERIENCE OUR FISHING

EXPERIENCE SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

A short distance from Kokomo are some of the most fertile and untouched waters Fiji has to offer. Ideally positioned within close proximity to the unspoilt and thriving, Great Astrolabe Reef, Kokomo offers varied, unrivalled and world-class fishing opportunities.

The waters around Kokomo contain a rich variety of pelagic and demersal species, from mackerel to marlin, wahoo and sailfish. To experience the thrills of big game or sport fishing, you need only venture a little further from the resort, to the outer reefs, where large schools of tuna cloud the top of untouched seamounts and where blue and black marlin cruise the deep water off the edge.

FISHING SEASONS

MAY – SEPTEMBER

Water temperature range from 23° - 26° Celsius / 73° - 79° Fahrenheit

During the winter months, anglers will experience line-burning action from schooling Wahoo and Sailfish that patrol the edges of the Astrolabe and Solo reefs, mid-sized Yellowfin Tuna that occupy the local reefs and large Walu and Spanish Mackerel that inhabit the waters around the islands.

OCTOBER – APRIL

Water temperature range from 26° - 30° Celsius / 79° - 86° Fahrenheit

During the warmer months, anglers can expect the strength and power of large Yellowfin Tuna as they congregate around the seamounts, schools of Mahi-Mahi feeding on flying fish and large Blue and Black Marlin in the deep waters around the Kadavu Islands.

YEAR ROUND

Species such as Dogtooth Tuna and Giant Trevally can be targeted and found throughout the year. These fish are territorial and we recommend practicing "catch and release".

GAME FISHING

HALF OR FULL DAY

Travelling in comfort and style on either Kokomo's 63-foot Hatteras (Kadua), 51 Bertram 3 state room flybridge (Katoa) or our Riviera 4000 Express (Kahala), enjoy a full or half day game fishing excursion. Our surrounding waters hold numerous seamounts, deep trenches, and Fish Aggregating Device's (FADs).

The close proximity creates a haven for big Bluewater Gamefish, such as Yellowfin Tuna, large Wahoo, Mahi-Mahi, Sailfish, Blue and Black Marlin and Short Bill Spearfish, all of which can all be encountered within a short distance from the island.

Please note, here at Kokomo we practice catch and release on all billfish species, but do enjoy some fresh Mahi-Mahi and Tuna sashimi after a day on the ocean.

DEEP DROPPING

Half or Full Day

Beyond the reef and over the drop-off, guests can target some of Fiji's most prized table fish in depths of up to 400 meters using the latest in Shimano electric reel technology. A real lucky dip, you just never know what you may pull up from the deep dark depths. The target species include Gold Band Snapper, Ruby Snapper, Bedford, Pakapaka, and many more delicious creatures of the deep.

REEF FISHING

2 HOURS OR HALF DAY

Kokomo's reef fishing experience involves a short boat ride on board one of our 5 fishing vessels to some of the surrounding coral reefs. Guests can try their hand at local reef fishing while using the latest Shimano gear and tackle. Listen in and learn about the local history and the fishing way of life in the Fijian villages. Species such as Snapper, Cod, Seabream and many more tasty reef species are found in the local reefs around Kokomo.

SPORTS FISHING

HALF OR FULL DAY

This action-packed hands-on sport fishing adventure will really get your heart rate pumping. You will focus on casting poppers and stickbaits into the surf zone, along the many reef breaks and points. Target Giant Trevally, Bluefin Trevally, Green Jobfish, and various Grouper. Moving offshore in search of foaming balls of feeding tuna - possibly the most exciting way to target Yellowfin Tuna, with topwater lures cast on top of the school. Also try deep water jigging for the mighty Dogtooth Tuna and other powerful species that thrive just over the drop offs and around seamounts. You may also encounter oversized Spanish Mackerel, Wahoo and Sailfish during your sportfishing adventure.

SPEAR FISHING

HALF OR FULL DAY

We provide a wide range of spear fishing charters, from beginners to the most experienced Bluewater hunters. Our trips are designed to provide the best possible chance of securing that fish of a lifetime, all while holding your breath. Learn about spear fishing equipment, freediving techniques and fish behaviour in this exhilarating underwater sport. Spear fishing charters will visit reefs and islands to the north of the Great Astrolabe Reef, where guests can target some of the most common reef and pelagic species in Fiji including Green Jobfish, Dogtooth Tuna, Spanish Mackerel and Wahoo.

UNDERSTAND OUR
SUSTAINABILITY

---

We hope that our passion for sustainability inspires you to consider what is most important to you and how you can preserve and protect your environment for generations to come.

Sustainability extends beyond the present. It is a promise to give back more than we take, to meet the needs of the present generation without compromising the future and to consider the implications of our actions.

While sustainable travel continues to gain momentum, Kokomo has built its foundation on driving positive change in this arena. The protection and preservation of our island, our community, and our oceans is of paramount importance to us, and formulating a green strategy for long term success is the cornerstone of our island home.

CORAL RESTORATION

One of the greatest threats to coral reefs around the world is climate change by rising sea temperatures. To ensure the reef surrounding Kokomo continues to thrive, we launched our Kokomo Coral Restoration Project in 2018.

This project is being led by the Kokomo Marine Biology Team and Marine Department, and our main goal is to increase the number of heat resilient corals on our Kokomo house reef. The more heat resilient corals we have on our house reef, the more likely the reef will survive in years to come.

Guests are encouraged to take part in all stages of the restoration process. Working with our team they can learn how to identify heat resilient corals, plant coral fragments into one of our 7 coral nurseries, and learn how to transplant corals back on to the Kokomo house reef.

Kokomo transplants over 3,000 corals back on to our house reef per season. We have added two new coral nurseries to our eastern side and grow corals in three different styles of nursery.

MANGROVE REFORESTATION

Our Mangrove Reforestation project aims to plant and restore mangroves, which provide critical marine habitats and coastal protection against tsunamis and cyclones. Mangroves are salt tolerant plants that grow in tidal and riverine areas. Their highly biodiverse habitats create a unique environment for an abundance of marine and freshwater life. Given mangroves are also five times greater at sequestering carbon than rainforests, they are critical in combating climate change and the effects of excess carbon dioxide in the earth's atmosphere.

To assist with restoration efforts, our team collect mangrove seeds, which are grown in a mangrove nursery on the island. The seeds will be ready for transplantation once they have germinated, with well-established root systems more likely to survive and withstand wave action in tidal areas. Mangroves have been proven to reduce wave action by more than 90%, vital in protecting low-lying coastal villages against cyclones and tsunamis.

Guests have the opportunity to participate in planting and transplanting activities with the Kids Club and landscaping department, regularly assisting with watering, weeding and maintenance. By educating guests on the importance of mangroves, having them participate in planting activities, and helping protect local communities, this project raises environmental awareness while assisting in community development.

MANTA CONSERVATION

MANTA PROJECT FIJI

The Manta Project Fiji is an affiliate of The Manta Trust. The Manta Trust was founded in order to turn the tide for these enigmatic rays, by coordinating global research and conservation efforts around manta rays, their relatives, and their habitats.

MANTATRUST.ORG

MANTA CONSERVATION PROJECT

The waterways surrounding Kokomo are a sensory feast, brimming with an enormous variety of sea life including the extraordinary Reef Manta rays (Mobula alfredi). Kokomo is making conscious efforts to help raise awareness and protect manta rays as best as possible in the waters surrounding our Island. The Kokomo Manta Conservation Project encompasses a manta acoustic tagging project, manta identification work, and our Adopt a Manta Initiative working in collaboration with The Manta Project Fiji (an affiliate of the Manta Trust).
